Find the Real You this January at Sault College

(Sault Ste. Marie, ON October 31, 2016) – Do you love the chills of winter or the chills you get knowing your career is beginning? It is time to find the real you by enrolling in one of Sault College’s many January start programs.

“Sault College offers a wide array of programs with a January start, which helps to accommodate the various needs of students,” says Colin Kirkwood, Vice President Academic and Research. “A January intake ensures a flexible option for students of all ages, including those students who recently graduated high school or chose to stay for an additional semester. Early access to these programs will help students take the next step in jumpstarting their educational and career pursuits,” he adds.

From programs that are world-renowned to programs that will help you change the world, you will find it here at Sault College. This January, students can start to pursue their passions in various areas, including our unique and expanding Business program. “New this year, the Sault College Business program is offering students an exciting learning experience where a common curriculum is utilized amongst all six northern Ontario colleges,” says Colin Kirkwood. “Students will benefit from this common curriculum because it will open up pathways into a variety of business disciplines that were previously unavailable to our students,” he notes.

In addition to Business, other great programs available for January start include: Adventure Recreation and Parks Technician, Fish and Wildlife Conservation Technician, Forest Technician – Conservation, General Arts and Science – One Year, General Arts and Science – University Transfer, Mechanical Engineering Technician – Manufacturing, Natural Environment Technician and Technologist – Conservation and Management, Personal Support Worker, Pre-Health Sciences, Police Foundations, Protection, Security and Investigation, and Public Relations and Event Management.
